

RICHARD W. HALL

Professional Preparation

San Francisco State University
University of California, Davis

Biology B.A. 1973
Entomology Ph.D. 1977

Appointments:

2003-present Associate Executive Dean, Colleges of the Arts and Sciences (25% appointment)
2002-present Associate Dean, College of Biological Sciences (75% appointment)
2001-2002, Interim Dean, College of Biological Sciences
1990-2001, Associate Dean, College of Biological Sciences
1995, Acting Dean, College of Biological Sciences
1988-present, Associate Professor, Department of Entomology, The Ohio State University
1982-1988, Assistant Professor, Department of Entomology, The Ohio State University

Program Capsules

Research:

Biological Control of Insects, Insect-Plant Interactions, Insect Ecology

Teaching: Introductory Biology (for non-majors), Economic Entomology, Biological Control of Arthropods

Extension/Outreach:

N/A

Additional Synergistic Activities:

Responsible for space and budget planning within the College of Biological Sciences
Responsible for facilities planning and space use coordination within the Colleges of the Arts and Sciences
College Research Officer
Responsible for Health and Safety and Computing Services in the College of Biological Sciences
Responsible for Jennings Hall planning; planning and construction of Aronoff Laboratory; planning and construction of the Biological Sciences Greenhouses and many smaller renovation projects
Member of numerous committees and task forces at the College, Arts and Sciences and University Levels